

Morgan Miranda

Morgan Miranda's photos are all different, either by the angle of the photo or what is in the photo. Even by changing the angle of a picture can change the way it looks and the atmosphere.

Even though the sky is just grey and quite dull and makes the scene look miserable the bright colours of the umbrellas make it look more colourful and bright!

Even though the sky is just grey and quite dull and makes the scene look miserable the bright colours of the umbrellas make it look more colourful and bright!

You cannot see beyond the houses/buildings or trees. Which gives a bit of mystery to where the road goes.

What I also like about the photo is that all the light that is in the picture is natural light which is also centered in the middle in the middle of the photo which gives a cool effect. darkness going into light.